

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NATIONWIDE FUNDRAISER TO PROTECT AMERICA'S CHILDREN KICKS-OFF THIS WEEK

UNITED STATES — October 15, 2012 — Social worker and child advocate, Stacy Galiczynski, has recently announced the kick-off of her fundraising campaign, Stacy's Safety Stars, in which she hopes to provide free safety I.D. kits to every single child in America. Aside from distributing the I.D. kits, she also anticipates being able to distribute free educational materials and support to keep your local schools drug-free, along with keeping your children safe from bullying.

Stacy is a former social worker and crisis counselor who is currently freelance writing on these very issues. She is also a mom of three young children herself and is well aware that there is not enough being done to keep America's kids safe. From her professional experience, as well as personal, she knows that many children are facing safety issues and are not equipped with the proper coping mechanisms and resources to live a more confident and secure life.

With every donation, Stacy is able to supply free child safety I.D. to local schools. What will you get with your generous contribution? You have the opportunity to designate what you want your donation to be used towards and to where it is sent. You will also receive name recognition on the website with any link back to you of your choosing. And best of all, you will be rewarded with a feeling like you've never felt before knowing that you were a part of this mission to keep the children in your community safe!

To find out more, visit Stacy's Safety Stars where you can help keep America's children safe and free from harm.

--- END ---